All GOOD people—not big money makers—love the gospel and staunch in the church, My father said they have stick-to-it-iveness, but need self-starters. They all love books, art, music and dance, and athletics,

CLARISSA lived to 57 years old. Youngest son was 18 years old when she died. Grandfather was a widower for 22 years. 7 sons and 32 grandchildren. My mother said Clarissa always kept her garments clean and well-mended. They were mostly home-made and the family was poor, but she held her garments sacred and cared well for them.
